

The background image is a wide-angle aerial photograph taken from an elevated position. In the immediate foreground, there is a large, flat, brown dirt lot with some faint tire tracks and sparse, dry vegetation. Beyond the lot, a residential development is visible, featuring several multi-story white buildings with terracotta-tiled roofs and prominent chimneys. The buildings are interspersed with green trees and shrubs. In the distance, the blue sea meets the horizon under a clear, bright blue sky. A range of brown, rocky mountains stretches across the background, with a small town or village nestled at their base. The overall scene is bright and clear, suggesting a sunny day.
